ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT DISTRICTS

Economic Development Districts are multi-county organizations established to promote economic development and job creation in their area. Through planning grants for administrative expenses, EDA provides assistance to 327 Economic Development Districts. Through these organizations, EDA supports significant economic development planning and implementation initiatives that develop the capacity and knowledge needed to plan and implement comprehensive economic development strategies.

REVOLVING LOAN FUND GRANTEES

Revolving Loan Funds are publicly administered development capital funds, providing debt financing for strategically targeted businesses unable to obtain adequate market financing for projects of economic benefit to an area. Revolving Loan Funds capital is replenished as loans are repaid and is then recycled into new loans. The purpose of this program is to provide economically distressed communities with a flexible and continuing source of capital that can be used with other economic development tools for encouraging private investment in the types of business activities that will contribute to long term economic stability and growth.

TRADE ADJUSTMENT ASSISTANCE CENTERS

EDA funds a network of twelve Trade Adjustment Assistance Centers (TAACs) to help firms and industries adversely affected by import competition. TAACs provide technical assistance in diagnosing problems, assessing opportunities, and implementing solutions. This assistance is designed to enable U.S. firms and industries injured by international trade agreements, such as GATT/WTO and NAFTA, to develop their ability to compete in the global marketplace.

UNIVERSITY CENTERS

EDA funds 69 universities under the University Center program. These institutions of higher education have numerous resources, such as laboratories, computers and faculty, that can be used to support and foster economic development. Grants are awarded to assist colleges and universities in using their own and other resources to address the economic development problems and opportunities of their areas. Activities funded under the program focus on providing technical assistance to clients outside the sponsoring institution.
